

Simplified Medical Report

This information is AI generated and not medical advice. Always consult a healthcare professional for medical advice.

Medicines:

- Paracetamol
- Insulin
- Cough Syrup

Purpose:

Paracetamol is typically used for pain relief and reducing fever. Insulin is used to control blood sugar levels in diabetes. Cough Syrup is generally used to relieve cough symptoms.

Dosage Instructions:

Paracetamol 500mg: Take once weekly. Insulin: 2 tablets after meals. Cough Syrup: Apply externally.

Warnings & Side Effects:

- Paracetamol: Overuse can cause liver damage.
- Insulin: Incorrect dosage can lead to hypoglycemia or hyperglycemia.
- Cough Syrup: Typically not applied externally; consult a doctor for correct usage.